

One rainy Saturday, I found myself feeling really bored with nothing to do

All my usual toys and games seemed uninteresting

Mom noticed and suggested we could find something new and fun to do together

First, we tried baking cookies, which I had never done before

Then, we made a fort out of blankets and chairs in the living room

Inside our fort, we read stories and told each other jokes

I learned how to make shadow puppets with my hands on the wall

We even had an indoor picnic with the cookies we baked

Mom said boredom can be an opportunity to try new things

By the end of the day, I realized I had a lot of fun doing things I hadn't thought of before

I felt grateful to Mom for helping me turn a boring day into an adventure

I learned that with a little creativity, I can always find ways to enjoy myself
